SUMMARY

Developer Advocate with a track record of turning technical audiences into active, contributing networks. Activated 1,000+ members into Web3 and AI through hands-on onboarding, education, and events, and organized 5+ in-person events in partnership with organizations including MetaMask and WebCMD. Twice ranked top 5 in HackQuest's Code Learning Camp and won 8x hackathons across ecosystems including Flow, Arbitrum, Solana, and Injective. Comfortable moving between strategy, partnerships, event execution, and technical content — with a builder's understanding of the chains I represent.

EXPERIENCE

Developer Advocate | HackQuest2024 – Present | Remote

- Activated 1,000+ builders into the Web3 and AI space through structured onboarding, educational content, and hands-on workshops.
- Organized 5+ in-person (IRL) events in partnership with organizations including MetaMask and WebCMD, driving hands-on learning and network growth.
- Ranked in the top 5 (2x) of HackQuest's Code Learning Camp, a competitive cohort-based program for Web3 builders.
- Built and maintained relationships with partner organizations including Solana, contributing to cross-ecosystem initiatives and expanding HackQuest's network.
- Represented HackQuest at hackathons and builder events — including 8x hackathon wins across ecosystems such as Flow, Arbitrum, Solana, and Injective — while mentoring participants and running technical workshops, including at the Stellar Development Foundation's Buildathon.

Blockchain Lead | GDG on Campus – Government College of Engineering & Ceramic Technology (GCECT)2024 – Present | Kolkata

- Co-built the college's GDG on Campus chapter from zero, turning a campus with no active tech scene into a running program of workshops and technical sessions.
- Led the blockchain vertical of the chapter, organizing sessions, study jams, and hackathon prep to introduce students to Web3 development.
- Grew campus engagement with Google Developer Technologies alongside blockchain, positioning GDG GCECT as an active node in the broader tech ecosystem.
